Eleven O'Clock P. M.

PROMISES THEM PROTECTION.

The New Excise Commissioners
Will Be High-Toned and Abe Men.

Mayor Strong this afternoon received a delegation from the Central Liquor Dealers' Association, and for an hour the proper enforcement of the Excise laws was discussed.

After the conference was over Mayor Strong advised the liquor dealers to get together and come to an understanding concerning the opening of their saloons on Sunday.

The Mayor suggested that they set the hours between 2 o'clock in the afternoon and 11 o'clock at night for keeping open on Sunday and see how the community would receive the new order of things.

Morris Tekulsky, who acted as spokesman for the delegation, said that he was afraid the plan would not work because the saloon-keepers not in the Association would not keep to the rule, but would open on the sly in the morning and thereby reap the benefit of the new rule.

Mayor Strong told the liquor dealers that he was sure they would be satisfied with the men he would appoint as Excise Commissioners.

"They will," he said, "be high-toned, able men, competent to formulate their own laws."

The Mayor, while advising the liquor dealers to try the Sunday afternoon opening plan, said that he personally favored the plan of keeping closed all day Sunday. He was in favor of the law regulating the sale of liquor.

The Mayor said he would take care of the other saloon-keepers who did not serve the 2 to 11 o'clock rule, if the members of the Association decided to adopt the plan he suggested.

Mayor Strong complimented the delegation on its fine personal appearance, and called them "boys" when addressing them.

The Mayor would give the liquor dealers no assurance that he would use any influence at Albany in connection with the passage of the bill having to do with the liquor traffic.

He asked the delegation if any of its members were colored, and when answered in the affirmative, he said he was glad to hear it, and the reply was emphatically "No, sir."

The Mayor said he asked this because he could not understand why there was such a scramble for the place of Excise Commissioner.

Col. Strong said that he thought that the liquor business was as legitimate as any other, and that the saloon-keepers should be protected in their rights. He brought the conference to a close by asking the liquor dealers to help him in enforcing the Excise laws, and invited them to come and see him every two weeks until the matter was adjusted to everybody's satisfaction.

Mayor Strong was apparently much shocked by Mr. Tekulsky's statement that respectable women who would shrink from being seen in a saloon were furnished by the big candy stores and by some of the dry-goods stores with 10 or 12-cent flasks of liquor, which they drank in the dressing-rooms of the establishments, and in this way became intoxicated and the saloon-keepers were blamed for it.

It is Mayor Strong's intention to make a personal investigation of the Sunday liquor law as now enforced, and will make the round of the city next Sunday for that purpose.

STRONG'S FAITH IN BYRNES.

The Mayor Returns His Letter Accompanied by His Reply.

Mayor Strong this afternoon officially returned to Supt. Byrnes his letter of resignation, which the Superintendent sent to the Mayor three weeks ago.

Accompanying the returned resignation was a letter from the Mayor which, it is said, expresses to Mr. Byrnes his confidence in the Superintendent's ability to reorganize the police force.

Mayor Strong refused to make the letter public until to-morrow.

BEATEN WHILE PRAYING.

Teacher Wolf Charged with Assaulting an Orphan Boy.

Michael Wolf, thirty-one years old, a teacher in the Hebrew orphan asylum, at One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street and Amsterdam avenue, was arrested in the morning hours, and charged with beating eleven-year-old Michael Wilkins, one of the orphans, while the latter was saying his prayers.

He was held for examination.

Tammany Hall Caught the Second After a Punishing Race.

Judge Mahon Claims Johnson's Services—Irene a Winner.

(Special to The Evening World.)

RACE TRACK, ALEXANDER ISLAND, Jan. 15.—The events here to-day were decided under very pleasant conditions. The weather was half what could be desired. The attendance was the largest that has turned out for the past week. The track was fair, and if the climatic conditions remain favorable, visitors will be treated to the decided novelty of a fast track.

Judge William Mahon to-day filed a protest with the Association against allowing Jockey Johnson to ride, claiming that he holds a contract with the boy.

LADLAW TELLS OF THE BOMB.

Gives Evidence in His $50,000 Suit Against Russell Sage.

Ex-Judge Davis Says the Tragedy Might Have Been Averted.

The eminent counsel engaged in the trial of the suit of William R. Ladlaw against Russell Sage for $50,000 damages continued their efforts to secure a jury in the Supreme Court this morning.

Ten jurors, who had come safely through the ordeal of "challenges for favor," occupied the jury box. A proposition from plaintiff's attorney to waive the right of peremptory challenges and proceed with the juryman selected was declined by the defense.

After exhausting all peremptory challenges by the defense, the following jurors were accepted and sworn in: Jefferson K. (foreman), 223 East Twentieth street; J. Koehler, banker, 54 Pine street; Joseph O'Donnell, real estate, 141 West Twenty-second street; J. W. Wirtz, shoe, 418 Sixth avenue; Sherwood Williams, engraver, 54 Cedar street; W. A. Schneider, salesman, 38 Green street; W. L. Jacobs, bank clerk, 120 Bowery; H. H. Manning
